

Free Australian Accent Workshop

Saturday 14 January 2017, 12pm – 3pm
Preston, Vic

In preparation for my trip to the US of A, I will be running a free (donations welcome) accent workshop for those wishing to learn an Australian accent. I am particularly keen to have Americans come along, but anyone is welcome. Please pass this along to friends and colleagues who might be interested in attending.

But Jen, what IS an Australian accent? Good question. Of course, there are a myriad of variations within our vast land, but in this workshop we will focus on “standard” and “broad” dialects. (Think Rebecca Gibney and Paul Hogan, in that order).

Please rsvp to jen@jenniferinnes.com.au

Places are limited.